Christmas Cantata

discuss on the 29th when we hold additional practices, as needed. This year, God Coming Down will be performed on Sunday morning instead of in the evening, as we have done in the past. The date will be Sunday, December 19, so go ahead now and plan to be in church that day to hear some wonderful traditional and newer, more contemporary praise music mixed together in a beautiful presentation!

I'd like to just take a second to thank all the choir members, musicians, the staff of the church and all of you in the congregation for your prayers and thoughts during the illness and passing on to heaven of my Daddy. Your calls, words, cards, and prayers have touched the whole family and we thank you all so very much. Please keep us in your thoughts and prayers as we make our journey through the grief process, knowing all the time that Daddy is in heaven and we will all see him again someday!

Please keep the music ministry of the church in your prayers and thoughts. And as always, please be in prayer for our Church and for ALL the ministries and their leaders,

With a song in my heart, Beth

Hello, everyone! Well, it's time for the choir to start practicing and preparing for our annual Christmas Cantata. This year, the choir will be performing "God Coming Down", a Travis Cottrell Worship and Praise Cantata. I hope you will find that it touches you as much as it has touched me while listening to it in preparation for our practices. Starting on Sept. 29, choir practice will run from 6:30 until 8:00 to allow some extra time to practice the Christmas music. We will
